

Today is the 2nd day of H.C.R.2023, and again, we enjoyed attendance of a large number of visitors. Here is the preliminary number of visitors for the 2nd day.

=====
Thursday, September 28 40,070 / Weather: Sunny
=====

* Breakdown of visitors by trade will be promptly reported after the exhibition.

The following shows the cumulative number of visitors for 2 days.

	Weather	# of Visitors	Cumulative # of Visitors
Wed. Sep. 27	Sunny	39,322	—
Thu. Sep. 28	Sunny	40,070	79,392

Just as it was for the first day, the venue was filled with many people who had been waiting for the exhibition. The venue had been busy all day with a lot of people stopping at exhibitors' booths, participating in seminars, trying out exhibits, and so on.

The international symposium, in particular, featured reports on the status of welfare/assistive equipment in the Netherlands, Denmark, the U.S., and Japan, making for a meaningful time that epitomized the international exhibition.

There is one more day left for this exhibition.

H.C.R.2023 is the exhibition where you can “see,” “touch,” and “try on” exhibits. Please do not miss this 50th milestone opportunity!

We are looking forward to seeing you at the site. Please make good use of H.C.R.Web2023 as well!
